That has perhaps been the main difference between us. You have always said that you were as wide awake to the usurpations of the Slave Power as I was, and as heartily opposed to them. You have said - and I never doubted your honesty - that in your opinion the best way to resist them was to adhere to the Whig party, which, in Massachusetts at least, was always professing and promising so well. I did not think so, because I did not find that those professions and promises proved to be good for anything when the time for action came. So we have continued to differ, but we have respected each other, and have never quarrelled. After the Whig Convention at Worcester on the 2d of this month, I sat down to write out for you some of my thoughts respecting it. In...
